This significant contribution aims to enhance the educational environment for pupils and teachers alike, fostering a conducive atmosphere for learning and development.

Background

NSADWER BASIC SCHOOL, nestled in the heart of Komenda, near Elmina in the central region of Ghana, serves as a beacon of hope for many children seeking quality education. Despite its dedication to providing education, the school has faced challenges in acquiring essential teaching aids, such as marker boards, hindering the effective delivery of lessons.

Donation

Understanding the pivotal role education plays in shaping the future of the children, Blue Horizon Aid stepped forward to address this need. Through the benevolence of CEO Mr. Benjamin Turkson, the organization donated a series of white marker boards to NSADWER BASIC SCHOOL. These boards will serve as invaluable tools for teachers to impart knowledge and for pupils to engage actively in the learning process.

Impact

With the addition of these marker boards, NSADWER BASIC SCHOOL is poised to witness a positive transformation in its teaching methods and academic outcomes. Pupils will benefit from enhanced interactive sessions, while teachers will find greater versatility in their instructional approaches.

Appreciation:

On behalf of NSADWER BASIC SCHOOL, The headmistress of the school, Miss Philomina Ama Adjei extended their heartfelt appreciation to Blue Horizon Aid for their philanthropic gesture. She also said this donation reaffirms the belief that education is a fundamental right that should be accessible to all, regardless of socio-economic backgrounds. We are immensely grateful for the support rendered, which will undoubtedly leave a lasting impact on the lives of our pupils.

Conclusion:

In conclusion, Blue Horizon Aid's donation of white marker boards to NSADWER BASIC SCHOOL stands as a shining example of corporate altruism in action. GOD WILL INTERVENE

Scripture Reading: Psalm 4

There are many who say, “Who will show us any good?”
Lord, lift up the light of Your countenance upon us.
Psalm 4:6

As more people joined up with Absalom against David, the people in David’s camp started feeling despondent. Every day, they heard of some important person defecting from their side to join their opponents. Some of David’s most trusted advisors broke camp and joined the rebellion. David’s leaders reported what his people were saying to him.

Who will show us any good? In their despair, David's troops wondered whether they would have a good break. David's people were so used to disappointment that they couldn't imagine the situation turning to their advantage. The words indicate that this discouraging statement was made over and over by the grumblers. The more they complained, the more others took up the chorus. Have you ever felt as if nothing good was happening to you? Each one of us has struggled with times when we have had a long streak of bad news.

Lord, lift the light of your countenance on us. As David pondered the sense of defeat that had engulfed his camp, he called on the Lord for His favour. David's prayer was for the Lord to smile on him. He wanted to see God do something to assure him that everything would be alright. David's prayer is part of Israel's priestly blessing that the Lord required the priests to speak over the people.

Today, we can also ask the Lord to smile upon us. He is the Lord who turns the light into darkness. For a season, you may hear words of despair and see treachery all around you. You may feel as if your situation continues to deteriorate. Yet, in the midst of all that you're going through, the Lord has not left your side. His eyes see through the darkness surrounding you. His presence is real. He is more than all those who have abandoned you.

When people ask, 'who will show us any good?', the Lord answers, 'I will.' He will turn your repeated voices of despair into a shout of praise.

Prayer: Heavenly Father, your presence with me is more than thousands against me. Smile with favour upon me. In Jesus' name, Amen.
